

CALL FOR PAPERES

DEADLINE SUBMISSIONS: APRIL 1st, 2025

TESTING and the impact of AI

SPRING EVENT

Wednesday May 14th 2025

With the continuous progress in Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Machine Learning (ML), we are on the eve of a new generation of testing methods and techniques. With this call for papers, we invite you to share your insights, experiences and innovations in the field of AI and Testing at our Spring Event.

After a number of events elsewhere, TestNet returns to familiar grounds with this Spring Event, namely at NBC in Nieuwegein.

Submission guidelines

!!! Don't be too quick to think that your ideas and experiences are logical/simple/not presentation-worthy. Just assume that your story can be fun, useful, inspiring or thought-provoking for others and then we'd love to see you on stage at TestNet!

Submission guidelines:

- Do you have such a fun, useful, interesting, appealing and/or inspiring story for a workshop or presentation? Then send your proposal using the template (in Word format).
- TestNet is looking for interesting, non-commercial stories that are fun, useful, inspiring and/or give food for thought to the members.
- The members of the Events Committee and the Board each individually score all submissions. Their scores are collected, and the total score determines whether or not a presentation is selected.
- The program offers space for workshops (1.5 or 3 hours) and presentations of 25 or 45 minutes in parallel sessions (in addition to the presentations registered via the submissions, the Events Committee provides interesting keynotes).
- Documents must be submitted in Word format, using the downloadable template
- Send your submission to speakers@testnet.org. Make sure that all sections are filled in.
- You will receive a confirmation of your submission so that you know that it has been received.

Important Dates:

- Deadline for abstract submission: April 1st, 2025
- Feedback on whether or not on the program: mid-April 2025
- Conference date: Wednesday May 14th, 2025
